

PO's of CSE Department are:

1. To develop skill like logic development, design and analysis of problems, in student and solve the problems through implementation of different programs by using their programming knowledge skills.
2. Student will get knowledge of different operating system concepts, like memory management, process management, file system, device management, and compiler construction.
3. To develop data base handling skills of student by learning different data base management concepts like data base models, design techniques, and executing the queries by study of different database languages.
4. Students will get the knowledge of networking skills, by studying different networking concepts like network reference models, protocols used in different layers and working of different networking devices.
5. To develop oral, and written communication, and Managerial skills in student as well as help student to understand their social responsibility.